Dec: 10, 1792.

STRAYED away last September
from the subscriber, living on Hickman road four miles from Lexington, at George Adams' mill, an iron Gray mare, about thirteen or fourteen hands high, no mark perceivable, only her near hind leg broke,
also a three year old bay mare no
brand, a two year old colt, no brand,
and a last spring colt, black but is probably changed to an iron gray;
all four strayed away at one time;
also a brindle cow, hip shotten, with white spots; whoever takes up said creatures and delivers them at George Adams' in Lexington or at his mill shall have three pounds reward by GEORGE ADAMS.
Who has for sale a Carriage and Harness.

NOTICE
IS hereby given to all persons having demands against the estate of Timothy Peyton deceased, to produce the same, to the subscriber at Bourbon Court house on Tuesday the 19th of March, (it being March Court-day) in order to have them settled; at which time and place will be sold, a part of said decedent's preemption,
lying on Stoner, and in the neighbourhood of Strodes station, for which a title
will be immediately given by Commissioners appointed by law for that purpose.
Sarah Peyton, Ex-
of Timothy Peyton dec,
March 1, 1793.

STRAYED from the subscriber's
stock, at grassy lick Bourbon county last spring, a roan Mare about 4 feet 8 inches high, branded DR long bob tail, very wild, never properly broke, lades very much when the trots; Also a 3 year old filly, bright bay, bobbed in the same manner and branded on the buttock thus R&C, also a sorrel filly, three years old, with a blaze in her face which resembles a poppaw leaf and I believe some white on her under lip, branded R&C on the buttock; also
a red sorrel, two years old spring past, branded as above; also a very likely bay filly, one year old spring
past, a blaze face, or rather a star
branded on the cushion as above,
which I suppose is worn out as it was only intended to burn the hair when made. Also a little black mare which was with foal when the went off, branded DR and on the buttock 113. Likewise a brown yearling colt. Any person giving information of any of the above creatures
so that I get them again, shall be amply rewarded according to their trouble.

V I E N N A, Oct. 22.

The Emperor has issued, under date of the 14th, an official note, exhorting all the Princes of Italy to make it a common cause with the King of Sardinia, by joining him against the French, who threaten to take all Italy.

P A R I S, Oct. 24.

The negotiation with the King of Prussia commences this week at Longwy. Kellerman, Valence, the Duke of Brunswick, and gen. Kalreuth are to open the business of accommodation. Austria is totally out of the question.

L O N D O N, November 5.

The despotic Princes all over Europe, look towards France at present as a thief looks at the execution of a brother in iniquity. "It is what we must all come to."

November 23.

From the fabrication of twenty thousand Daggers for the English Jacobins, we may expect to see many new Tragedy Actors in the course of the winter.—At every turning of a street, we shall see the tragic flart of Mackintosh—"Is this a Dagger that I see before me?"

GEN. WASHINGTON, the President of Congress, affects a greater state than any crowned head in Europe. There are very few people that he will permit to sit down at the table with him; and when he travels, it is in a style of affected magnificence—so much for the modesty of Republicanism.

B O S T O N, January 5.

A Cadiz paper mentions, that a commercial treaty is certainly negotiating between the Court of Madrid, and the United States of America; and many of the Cadiz merchants were in high spirits, in the hope, that it must prove highly beneficial, not only to their country in general, but to themselves in particular.

A citizen observes that now times in the civil line are "dying daily," it is high time those in the Ecclesiastical should be abolished.—To give the title of Reverend to any man, "be he who he may," is not only anti-republican, but absolutely blasphemous—Reverend, only belongs to the Supreme Being.—We read "Holy and Reverend is his name."—No more of Reverends among poor frail mortals.

N E W-Y O R K, January 18.

Extract of a letter from London, dated October 20.

"Your rejoicing at the glorious success of the French, will be mingled, I am persuaded, with regret for the treachery of La Fayette.—What a pity that he should have exchanged his well earned fame, for a life and memory of infamy and detestation!"

"We have had no emotions hitherto tending towards a revolution; though the rapid and extensive circulation of the Rights of Man must inevitably have sown the seeds of liberty, which, in time, it is hoped, will produce good fruit."

"In the mean while, the spirited conduct of the Irish Catholics promises fair to begin the business on that side the water; so whether the Scots will take it up next or not is less easy to foresee; but at any rate, the infection will reach us.—Caution!"

P H I L A D E L P H I A,

a French ship for not saluting the British Squadron on the celebration of the British King's accession.

It appears that General Cuthbert has taken Frankfort on the Main, and imposed a contribution on that city of two millions of florins—he has also taken the crown scepter, and regalia, used at the coronation of the Emperors of Germany.

January 12.

There is a very general report (says a London paper) that the Cabinet of St. James's, is disposed to acknowledge the new French Republic. This event which some people pretend will be made public previous to the meeting of Parliament, will open a new field for politicians.

Extract of a letter from Pittsburgh, January 4.

It appears to me to be the view of the British Court, to get their hands on the country that we and the savages are now contending for; the moment Congress ceases to the latter, the British will strike up a bargain in which they for this desirable country—then will they encourage the citizens of the States to come over to them, which they will not fail to do, whenever they are pleased to be offended with the government. These ideas are hastily thrown together, and I pray God may not be veridical.

A report has been in circulation, that Mr. Pitt Prime Minister of Great-Britain, has resigned—particulars of this report are contained in the following.

"Previous to the meeting of parliament, a cabinet council was called, when Mr. Pitt proposed that a RESOLUTION should immediately be brought forward by the ministry, being the best mode to quiet the minds of the people; however the rationality of this measure was not adopted, and finding himself in the minority of the cabinet, he instantly resigned; the temerity of such a step may likely prove fatal to Britain, as he was a very popular minister and much esteemed for his integrity; if insurrections and commotions are to take place, this must undoubtedly accelerate the business, and indeed if it should happen, it will be a signal for all Europe to follow the example; when this country looks at the dreadful storm which is gathering there, well may they exclaim, "O fortunate nimium si fur bona norint."

Jan. 16. We learn by a private letter from Dublin, that the commotions in Ireland are considerable.—It says "That a piper was fired up in Dublin on the Barrack and Castle gates, with the words, NO KING, AND LIBERTY! On which a private council was called, and orders given to the commander in chief to repair to the barracks—there he interrogated, whether they knew or were privy to posting up of said papers; they all remained silent; he then informed them, if any of them were dissatisfied with the service, they might be discharged, but no answer was returned. Next morning a fresh paper, to the same purport appeared on the same places; on which a Royal Proclamation was issued, in which the Lord Lieutenant and Council declared, "That if any soldier should be detected in posting up any seditious paper, or, on oath, should be proved privy thereto, he should receive 500 lashes, and be expelled the service; and if any foreigners should be detected, having the book entitled The rights of Man, written by Thomas Paine, he should be indicted as a felon."

January 24.

The following extract of a letter dated Charleston (S.C.) Dec. 25, is copied from the North Weekly Register, of Jan. 12.
"A few days since departed this life, Henry Laurens, esq. about 70 years of age, and his corpse was burnt the third day after his decease. This was done by his son at the request of the fathers, who made this request in the will, that unless his son complied with this request, he should be cut short of any of his estate, which was worth about 64,000 sterling. The ashes remaining from the body were taken up and put into a silver urn made for that purpose. The reason that Mr. Laurens gave for this singular desire, was, that his body was too good to be eaten by worms."

February 2.

Extract of a letter from Dublin, received by the brig Friend his, arrived at New-York after a short passage.

"The Roman Catholics are in almost open rebellion. I am confident, very soon we shall have some serious business. I think, under the signature of Paine, Cannon, Sena, Rights of Man, American, are put up every morning in the most populous parts of the city, even the Castle, House of Lords & Commons, and Courts of Justice, are not excepted, altho' you would think there is a follier for every brick in those buildings, to watch the promoters, but in vain; walking thro the city after dark, you may pick up hundreds of them."

"Government have ordered all the Irish troops away, one regiment only (that of Irish Artillery) refused to march, they are all said, you may break up, but we will never forsake our country, more so for reason you have drained our city of our friends and relatives, and in place of the given us English and Scotch."

"The guards on the Castle and Bank of Ireland are doubled."

Accounts from England mention, that they begin to fly their soldiers for reading Paine's Rights of Man. This, while it gratifies the low revenge of the Court, will, notwithstanding, be the readiest means to publish the book throughout the military part of the nation.

MARTINSBURG, January 28.

A letter from a gentleman in Boston, to another in Philadelphia, mentions that a European vessel had arrived there the 29th ultimo, which brings accounts that a truce has taken place between the French and Austrian armies; that a grand Congress was to be formed on the continent, for negotiating a peace; and that the national Convention of France are to send Deputies to it. In consequence of this, it has been determined to recall the French armies within the frontier, and the enemy to evacuate the entire line from Dunkirk to Geneva.

RICHMOND, January 26.

There is a report in this city (which we sincerely hope may prove true) that the Congress of the United States have voted the sum of 40,000 dollars to the Marquis de LA FAYETTE, for his present purposes; and that they have empowered a person to wait on the King of Prussia, and demand of him that brave and injured Man, as an American officer.

ALEXANDRIA, January 23.

A letter from Portugal states, that the Queen is absolutely mad, considered as absolutely incurable, and hardly and longer spoken of in her own country. Her son, the Duke of Bragaa, has assumed the direction of the government, under the title of Prince Regent.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.

From a Correspondent.
We are sincerely happy to have it in our power to inform the inhabitants of the Western country, that there is now a prospect of a speedy and general peace with the various Indian nations within the territory of the United States North West of the river Ohio. The hostile tribes have actually agreed to send forward their commissioners to such a place as shall be agreed upon for this purpose. It is said, that the negotiation will be conducted on the most extensive, liberal and comprehensive principles, and that there is the best ground to believe that a peace thus negotiated will be permanent and completely satisfactory to all the contracting parties. We are not able to say, what particular influence this event is likely to take place. It is certain however, that in addition to the overtures made directly by our general government to the Indians, Capt. Brant, and other principal characters among the Six Nations, were some time since employed to bring about this desirable end.—It is more than ally, (and in his honor he is spoken) there is reason to believe, that the British Government has been highly instrumental in bringing to our view this pleasing prospect. It is but a few weeks ago, since Prince Edward, the fourth son of the British King, addressed an Assembly of the Six Nations at Niagara, in a manner truly becoming. He is said to have spoken a considerable time, and with much good sense. After expatiating largely on the unhappy and ruinous effects consequent to war with the United States, he informed them, that it was not only his wish that they should be at peace with America, but it was also the wish of his father; that they could not leave him more agreeably than by using their best endeavors to bring in to the same sentiments their brethren and Indian tribes now at war with the United States; that altho' the western Indians had gained one or two victories over the army of the United States, yet they should remember that America is very powerful and warlike, and that she is able to exterminate them from the face of the earth; that the hostile tribes ought to embrace the present offers of peace on the part of the United States, lest these fatal consequences might in time follow.

After this speech, Governor Simcoe addressed the Indians to the same effect. Prince Edward commands a regiment now in Canada.

L E X I N G T O N, March 23.

From the Virginia Gazette and Public Advertiser.

It is proposed by a Member, that the Society of Cincinnati of Virginia, be convened on as early a day as may be, for the purpose of mutually testifying their satisfaction on the important information received from France, to wit: That the nation have established their liberty in despite of the combinations heretofore acting against them.

In order also, to take under consideration a motion, which in that case will be made, to tender as a donation to the National Assembly of France, the funds now possessed by the said Society as a testimony of their gratitude for the services rendered by that generous nation to America in general, and to Virginia in particular, in their late struggle for liberty and independence, as well as to assist in procuring the means of repelling future attacks on the rights of Man, through the Republic of France.

And in order also to consider whether the further existence of the Society, as such be recognized by any of the means than the recollection of its late action; all felt created distinctions being in our test with Republican Governments.

A gentleman who arrived in town on Thursday, and who landed at Lexington on Wednesday last, after a passage of 7 days from Red Bank, informs, that between the Kanawha and Sandy they saw 7 or 8 rafts on the Kentucky River.

THIS will notify the public, that I gave two promissory notes of hand to a certain Richard Stephens, for 35 and a half gallons of whiskey payable the one the 14th of February, and the other the 14th of November 1793, which for certain reasons I will not pay.

Pork at twelve shillings per hundred, and salt at twelve shillings per fifty weight.

LATH, was got by the no ed imported horse Lath, out of Minerva; Minerva was got by old Fearnought, her dam young Jenny Dismal; Young Jenny Dismal was got by Sober John an imported horse, her dam was old Jenny Dismal, who was also the dam of Regulus and Godolphin; Old Jenny Dismal was got by the famous old Dismal in England, who won a thousand guineas sweep stakes and five kings plates, without ever being once beaten, her dam was got by old Godolphin's White Foot, her sire the Godolphin Arabian. Lath was got by Shepherd's Crab, sire of Mr. Vernon's Shepherds, the best mare in England; the duke of Devonshire's celebrated Fairy, and many other famous racers; Shepherd's Crab was a very excellent son of old Crab, and out of the famous Whittington mare a daughter of old Parner; his dam was got by Lath, the best son of the Godolphin Arabian, and out of Roxana, a daughter of the Bald Galloway, the fleetest horse (the Devonshire Childers excepted) that ever ran over New Market; his grand dam by the same flying Childers, his great grand dam by Markeless, out of a full sister to Henry Comb Punch, son to the Taffolent Barb; his great, great grand dam, was a natural Barb mare. This horse in 1767, then four years old, won the 800 guineas subscription at New Market, beating Lord Bolinbrook's Partuff, and seven others; in 1768, he was landed in America, and that year won the fifty pound plate at New Market, on Long Island, carrying weight for age; in 1769, he won the Jockey club purse of 100 pounds at Philadelphia, beating then the best running horses from Maryland &c. in 1770, he won the hundred at the same place; in 1771, he also won the hundred at New-Market, and never was beat but once, when he ran out of condition otherwise it is thought he would have won easy.

Entertainment and pasturage gratis, and the greatest care will be taken of mares that is left with the horse, but will not be liable for any accidents that may happen to them.

Feb. 6, 1793.

RAN away from the subscriber, a likely negro Blacksmith; he is near six feet high and not very black: he has a long flat nose, appears slim altho' he is broad shouldered, and stutters a little especially when questioned closely, a piece has been cut off the top of his left ear, but he conceals it with his hair: one toe on each of his feet is almost covered by the rest; he had on a white twill'd wollen sailor's jacket, a brown cotton waistcoat and leather breeches: he took with him a brown coat with short skirts, a drab great coat and a horsemans leather cap. He is extremely artful, and may have found means to change his cloaths, he may perhaps, procure a forged pass or attempt to pass for a free man. I will give ten dollars to any one who will secure him so that I get him again, and pay besides, all reasonable expences, if brought to me.
